

Weekly Blog 2.1; The Laundrymat Excursion... to inform future students what they should expect and our leadership the high cost of laundry here.

Well not to air any dirty laundry... Laundry for us here is not only a nice walk from the apartment but is also quite expensive. Here for one token is 4euro, and is, of course non-refundable once purchased. The machines are somewhat new, accepting one token for a small load and for the normal load is two tokens with no receipts available.

To dry your clothes is even more expensive, one euro for seven minutes of 'hot air', which is free from some of my buddies...and yes it took me about 35 minutes to dry the two loads of laundry. Well after dispensing 19 euro for my weekly laundry now I know why we love to do laundry at home! Soap not included ☺
